DETAILED ACTION

Claims 4-7, 19, 33-34, 36, 40, 43 and 46-47 are cancelled. Claims 1-3, 8-18, 20-32, 35, 37-39, 41-42, 44-45 and 48 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-3 and 8-10, drawn to a method to screen for nucleic acid molecules which show altered expression in an isolated first cell sample, the method comprising comparing gene expression profiles between test cell samples and reference cell samples grown with and without butyrate (or related carbon source).

Group II, claim(s) 11-14 and 16, drawn to a method for the detection of at least one nucleic acid molecule associated with the initiation and/or progression of colorectal cancer, in an animal, the method comprising a step of contacting a sample with a ligand which binds a nucleic acid as shown in Table 1.

Group III, claim(s) 15 and 17-18, drawn to a method for the detection of at least one polypeptide associated with the initiation and/or progression of colorectal cancer, in an animal, the method comprising a step of contacting a sample with a ligand which binds a polypeptide as represented in Table 1.

Group IV, claim(s) 20-32, 35, 37-39, 41-42, 44-45 and 48, drawn to a method to screen for agents which modulate the activity of at least one gene associated with the initiation and/or progression of colorectal cancer and agents identified by said screening method, the method comprising a step of forming a preparation comprising a polypeptide as represented by Table 1 and an agent to be tested.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The common technical feature that links Groups I-IV is a gene sequence represented by Table 1 of the instant specification. However, this common technical feature is not novel over the prior art and therefore does not constitute a special technical feature regarding unity of invention. For example, Anderson et al (WO 01/85944 A, 15 November 2001, made of record in the IPER) teach the nucleotide sequence (Sequence ID No. 1) having 100% sequence identity in a 894 nucleotide overlap to the first sequence shown in of Table 1 of the instant specification.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

If Applicant elects Group I-IV, Applicant must further elect only one gene or one combination of genes as represented by Table 1.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 10, 11, 15 and 20 correspond to the species election requirement.

The following claim is generic: Claim 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The species are distinct because they represent patentably distinct molecular structures.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
